One Reason to Gloat.

The representatives of "the allies" were present to-day in full force when the committee began its deliberations. and there was no more talk heard of bolting the National Committee.

Frank H. Hitchcock, the Taft manager, did not sit to-day as a member Frank H. Hitchcock, the Fait manager, did not sit to-day as a member of the committee, Solomon Luna, of New Mexico, whose proxy Mr. Hitchcock has held during the previous session of the committee, having arrived. Men Who Are Being Bowled After a conference with a number of his friends, Hitchcock decided to withdraw, despite the fact that he had received a telegram from Alexander Mc-Kenzie, the national committeeman from North Dakota, asking that Hitchcock theatre and spoke to her. She knew Hagen, a middle-aged, stout

Mr. Hitchcock also received a telegram from Charles A. Carey, of Oregon, sending his proxy to the Taft manager. Mr. Hitchcock made it over to President, Delighted, Agrees Representative James McLachlan, of California.

The 'allies' were highly jubilant over the withdrawal of Hitchcock, and claimed that they had forced him from the committee. Hitchcock said, however, that his retirement was in no way connected with the protests against him, which have been filed by the alites. He further declared that if an occasion should arise making such action desirable and necessary he would assume another proxy.

The hearing in the Third Florida Dis trict lasted but a short time, when the committee decided it in favor of the Taft people. The committee then took up the three Georgia districts, according to programme

He ran a great race and was catching the winner at the end after being lucky enough to get through on the rall in the stretch. Berkeley looked fine, as he usually does, and had a lot of early speed, but dropped back in the ruck after going a mile.

Consider the way. Rye went along with a rundown constitution, To guard against sickness use a distinct in every room. "betting their lives" on him. Don Enrique was the only one they were afraid of, so the gossip ran. Tileing won the race, beating Grapple in the last skxteenth, with Don Enrique finishing a poor third.

Saracinesca had his last year's speed to-day and cut out the pace to the far turn, with Grapple and Tileing running in the order named behind him. Don Enrique's case had been attended to at the first turn, where he was shut off and pushed back to the last place. He wouldn't run in his old time form He wouldn't run in his old time form after that. Still, at the end he had little trouble in heating the very fired Saracinesca home for third money.

Despite Trance's good record the wise money went to Keene's Suffragette in the final event. This wise crowd gave as an argument the fact that Trance was giving fifteen pounds away to Suffragette. Trance won, however, and in good time, although she was doing her best at the end. Suffragette got a couple of lengths the best of the break, but within the first sixteenth Trance got her and salied along a couple of lengths in front to the stretch.

Suffragette was running second and Counterpane third. At the sixteenth pole Suffragette seemed to stop and drop back. Notter then went to the whip and the filly responded gamely and began closing. After that she cut down Trance's lead with every stride until at the end Trance was but half a length in front. Counterpane held on to third place. Trance Wins Good Race.
